So Much Good News, What's a Kalamazooan to do?

What do you call entertainment that combines food and drink service with a top-notch movie-going experience? You call it Alamo Draftouse Cinema.

Just ask Time Magazine who called it "the best theater ever," or Entertainment Weekly who named it "the best theater in America."

The new theater is set to open this spring in downtown Kalamazoo, but what should you expect upon its arrival? Expect pre-show entertainment instead of a bombardment of advertisements. Expect a unique combination of a chef-led kitchen with full beverage service at the comfort of your seat.

The movie choices range from first-run blockbusters to indie films, and their chefs are known for their food pairing events...food paired with a movie, that is, like a turkey leg to go with Conan the Barbarian.

When Alamo Drafthouse opens its doors, you will find 10 screens, each equipped with state-of-the-art digital projection and sound. In addition, the layout of each screening room will allow everyone to have a great viewing experience by eliminating the traditional first row.

Each theater is unique to its community, and it will be exciting to see how the new theater will blend in with Kalamazoo. Their Denver location carries 32 Colorado microbrews on tap. What will they do here in one of the top 10 beer cities in the country?
